

(i) Fifteen percent or less of the outstanding voting securities of the issuer; or

(ii) Voting securities of the issuer valued at $25 million or less.

(c) Exception to exemption. Notwithstanding paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) No acquisition of voting securities of an institutional investor of the same type as any entity included within the acquiring person shall be exempt under this section; and

(2) No acquisition by an institutional investor shall be exempt under this section if any entity included within the acquiring person which is not an institutional investor holds any voting securities of the issuer whose voting securities are to be acquired.

Examples: 1. Assume that A and its subsidiary, B, are both institutional investors as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, that X is not, and that the conditions set forth in subparagraphs (2), (3) and (4) of paragraph (b) of this section are satisfied. Either A or B may acquire voting securities of X worth in excess of $25 million as long as the aggregate amount held by person "A" as a result of the acquisition does not equal or exceed 15 percent of X's outstanding voting securities. If the aggregate holdings would equal or exceed 15 percent, "A" may acquire no more than $25 million worth of voting securities without being subject to the requirements of the act.

2. In example 1, assume that B plans to make the acquisition, but that corporation B's parent, corporation A, is not an institutional investor and is engaged in manufacturing. Subparagraph (c)(2) provides that acquisitions by B can never be exempt under this section if A owns any amount of X's voting securities.

3. In example 1, the exemption does not apply if X is also an institutional investor of the same type as either A or B.

4. Assume that H is a holding company which controls a life insurance company, a casualty insurer and a finance company. The life insurance company controls a data processing company which performs services for the two insurers. Any acquisition by any of these entities could qualify for exemption under this section.

5. In example 4, if H also controls a manufacturing entity, H is not an institutional investor, and only the acquisitions made by the two insurance companies, the finance company and the data processing company can qualify for the exemption under this section.

§ 802.70 Acquisitions subject to order.

An acquisition shall be exempt from the requirements of the act if the voting securities or assets are to be acquired from an entity ordered to divest such voting securities or assets by order of the Federal Trade Commission or of any Federal court in an action brought by the Federal Trade Commission or the Department of Justice.

§ 802.71 Acquisitions by gift, intestate succession or devise, or by irrevocable trust.
